3. [] called about a problem involving housing [] Suitable premises available for rent are extremely rare. A builder who has completed four new units has agreed to hold these for occupancy by our employees if we will undertake to support the lease until the date of occupancy. I informed [] that under the circumstances, I considered this a legitimate expenditure and that when occupied we could either substitute the individuals upon the lease or sub-let to employees. Substitution is easier from an administrative point of view. 25X1
